

Protect our pigs

African swine fever is a contagious disease that could devastate our pork industry if it enters Australia. The disease is spread by direct contact with pigs, vehicles, equipment or clothing and by feeding meat to pigs. African swine fever is on our doorstep, strong biosecurity and hygiene practices are crucial.

Protect your property. Protect the Territory.

If it looks suss, call us 1800 675 888.

nt.gov.au/africanswinefever

