1 Introduction

The Procurement Governance Policy describes the Procurement Framework which includes the Procurement Principles, Procurement Lifecycle approach, Procurement Governance Model and terminology that governs and guides NTG procurement activities.

Section 11.1 of the Procurement Act provides for the Minister responsible for Procurement to 'issue directions with respect to the principles, practices and procedures to be observed in the procurement of supplies by and on behalf of the Territory and Agencies'. The Minister responsible for Procurement has issued two documents that form these directions:

1. Procurement Governance Policy (this document)
2. Procurement Rules.

The Procurement Rules outlines the mandatory requirements, exceptions exemptions, and process options for all Northern Territory Government (NTG) agencies and their personnel when undertaking procurement activities.

In addition to the directions issued by the Minister responsible for Procurement, Procurement Circulars are issued from time to time by the Agency responsible for procurement policy, providing further guidance to be observed by agencies.

The policy should be read in conjunction with the Procurement Rules and current Procurement Circulars to ensure agencies are compliant in the conduct of their procurement activities.

2 Procurement Framework

A high-level overview of the NTG Procurement Framework is shown in Figure 1 below, illustrating the relationship between the procurement legislation, directions and guidance components.

The Legislation and Directions establish the mandatory requirements that all agencies must follow when undertaking procurement.

Guidance documentation (including lifecycle guides, tools and templates) provides additional information to agencies on recommended approaches that may be adopted when undertaking procurement.

Agencies are not required to follow Guidance documentation and may establish agency specific processes consistent with the Legislation and Directions.

3 Procurement Principles

The five Procurement Principles that must be applied to every procurement activity, irrespective of value and risk, are presented below along with examples of what the principle means in practice.

PRINCIPLE 1: Value for Territory

Objective: Procurement expenditure is a key driver in the cost-effective realisation of NTG economic, social, environmental and cultural objectives.

In practice this means:

- ✓ Procurement objectives are clearly defined, understood and aligned with NTG strategic objectives.
- ✓ Adopting a value and risk approach to guide activities throughout the Procurement Lifecycle.
- ✓ Ensuring procurements are open to competition and support the participation of Territory enterprises.
- ✓ Assessing responses based on fair and objective criteria and analysis.
- ✓ Personnel required to undertake procurement activities have the competencies commensurate with their accountabilities/responsibilities.

PRINCIPLE 2: Ethical Behaviour and Fair Dealing

Objective: Instil confidence in business, industry and the public as to the probity, accountability and efficacy of NTG procurement activities.

In practice this means:

- ✓ Probity is maintained throughout all NTG procurement activities.
- ✓ Appropriate delegation and decision making frameworks are implemented and followed.
- ✓ Stakeholders are consulted openly, regularly and effectively.
- ✓ Clearly and consistently communicating to business and industry on decisions, performance and complaints processes.
- ✓ Procurement activities promote and enforce safe working standards and conditions.

PRINCIPLE 3: Open and Effective Competition

Objective: Procurement activities foster a competitive and innovative business environment to drive opportunities for the NT.

In practice this means:

- ✓ Communicating regularly with businesses and industry in relation to NTG procurement activities.
- ✓ Adopting procurement practices that comply with local and international trade obligations and promote competition for the benefit of the NT.
- ✓ Collaborating with business and industry to ensure they have appropriate notice, opportunity and time to effectively participate.
- ✓ Adopting strategies that improve productivity, competitiveness, innovation and capacity building.
- ✓ Providing meaningful feedback to business and industry in relation to responses, performance and competitiveness.

PRINCIPLE 4: Enhancing the Capabilities of Territory Enterprises and Industries

Objective: Procurement activities support the growth, development and sustainability of Territory enterprises and industries.

In practice this means:

- ✓ Adopting procurement practices that develop the capability, capacity and sustainability of Territory enterprises and industries.
- ✓ Implementing procurement strategies to improve Aboriginal participation.
- ✓ Collaborating with Territory enterprises and industries to provide upskilling opportunities to improve performance and competitiveness.
- ✓ Ensuring businesses and government are connected across industries and regions.
- ✓ Adopting procurement practices that support and promote innovation in the Territory.

PRINCIPLE 5: Environmental Protection

Objective: Procurement activities promote the protection of the environment through harm minimisation and sustainable practices.

In practice this means:

- ✓ Ensuring suppliers comply with environmental policies, strategies and legislation designed to protect the environment.
- ✓ Collaborating with potential suppliers to develop and implement environmentally sustainable approaches.
- ✓ Considering and mitigating the potential environmental impacts arising from NTG procurement activities.
- ✓ Avoiding materials derived from threatened species or environments.
- ✓ Promoting the development and acceptance of products and processes that have a low environmental impact.

4 Procurement Lifecycle

The Procurement Lifecycle has three stages and accompanying activities, as shown in Figure 2 below right:

- Planning – agency strategic procurement planning, defining specific procurement needs and planning specific procurement approaches.
- Sourcing – the process of inviting businesses and industry to submit offers, and the steps associated with assessing, negotiating and awarding contracts.
- Contract Management – systematically and effectively managing contract establishment, execution and closure, including a review of contractor performance and the recording of lessons learnt.
