

African swine fever

A moment of your time could save our swine

You play an important role in saving our bacon.

If you have pigs on your property, you share an important role to protect Australia against African Swine Fever (ASF).

ASF is a contagious viral disease of pigs that's spreading rapidly and will devastate our pork industry if it gets in. ASF is not a danger to human health or food safety.

The disease is spread by direct contact with infected pigs, contaminated vehicles, equipment or clothing and by feeding infected swill or meat scraps to pigs.

It's vital that we keep ASF out of Australia. We need your help to save our bacon by:

Keeping your PIC details updated.

- Fill in the Northern Territory PIC update form overleaf.
- Apply online, go to nt.gov.au/pic

Protect your pigs.

- Protect the health of your pigs and restrict the spread of an outbreak. For more resources to help keep your farm clean, go to farmbiosecurity.com.au

Staying vigilant - never feed swill to pigs.

- Human food is not pig food. Never feed pigs food or scraps containing animal matter such as meat, meat products and eggs (known as swill). It's illegal.
- Only feed pigs commercially available feed, grains, fruit and vegetables that have not had contact with animal matter.
- Dispose of food waste so pigs can't access and eat it.
