

Protect our pigs

African swine fever is a contagious disease that's spreading rapidly and will devastate Australia's pork industry if it gets in.

The disease is spread by direct contact with pigs, vehicles, equipment or clothing and by feeding meat to pigs. We need your help when you're travelling and working in Australia to protect our country.

Border protection is everyone's responsibility.

If it looks suss, call us 1800 675 888.

nt.gov.au/africanswinefever

