

Finke Gorge National Park

Fact Sheet

Finke Gorge National Park covers an area of 460 sq km, including the impressive Palm Valley. Palm Valley is home to a diverse range of plant species, many of which are rare and unique to the area.

This includes the Red Cabbage Palm (Livistona mariae) for which the Park is well known. The Red Cabbage Palm is restricted to this area with a population of approximately 12,000 plants. The Park and nearby areas hold cultural significance to the Western Aranda Aboriginal people. Evidence of early European settlement in Central Australia can also be seen.

Access

Park entry fees - Parks Pass applies (NT residents exempt).

The Park lies 138 km (about 2 hrs) west of Alice Springs. Turn south off Larapinta Drive just west of Hermannsburg. Access along the last 16 km of track is limited to high clearance 4WD (four wheel drive) vehicles only. Part of this last 16 km follows the sandy bed of the Finke River. Commercial tour operators regularly visit the Park from Alice Springs. For more details contact Tourism Central Australia.

Protecting the Park - Visitors remain one of the biggest potential threats to the continued survival of the palms.
